

BOTANICAL CENTER

Roger Williams Park

Just In Time! Locally Made Gifts!

Sunday, December 23, 2018 – 12pm-8pm

Roger Williams Park Botanical Center Presents: Just In Time! Locally Made Gifts for the last minute shopper! Sunday, December 23, 2018 from 12-8pm. We are seeking fine artisans. Categories include: handmade jewelry, sculpture, glass, paintings, photography, and ceramics. Other categories may also be considered. Categories will remain open until considered full, to keep a healthy balance of all mediums exhibited, so apply soon!

For one day only, our greenhouses will be transformed into a magical wonderland filled with extremely talented local artisans who will be selling their wares for all the last minute shoppers out there. We invite guests to make a day of it, and explore our beautiful gardens and greenhouses while shopping. When the sun goes down the fun doesn't stop, because we will be staying open late for our Grand Illumination! [there will be thousands of twinkle lights to make it a truly magical event.]

On the day of the event, standard admission fees apply to the general public: $5 for Adults and $2 for Children, Seniors and Military w/ ID. Artists will be given badges for the day.

A limited number of booth spaces are approximately 8' wide x 6' deep, a majority of booth spaces will be a 6' table display, with a chair to the side (not behind). Vendors must provide their own table and display. Chairs will be provided. Vendors must unload their inventory/display and move their car to designated parking lot by 11am. At this time we will be open to the public, and you can continue to set up your work. Show officially opens at noon. More detailed load in/out information will be sent in the days leading up to the show.

Roger Williams Park Botanical Center will advertise the event through our mailing list, on multiple internet sources, social media accounts and print advertising. All artisans accepted into the show must agree to use their social media to assist with advertising. A Facebook event will be created, and business pages will be invited as co-hosts so you can easily invite all your fans.

You will be invoiced upon acceptance after the jury process; invoices must be paid in full within one week of acceptance to hold your booth space. The booth fee of $75/$100 can be paid for by cash, charge, or check at The Botanical Center ticket booth Tuesday-Sunday 11am-3:30pm or checks (Please make checks out to City of Providence/ Botanical Center) can be mailed to:

Roger Williams Park Botanical Center
Just In Time!
Attn: Catherine Riker
1000 Elmwood Ave
Providence RI 02905