IV. ACTIVITY SUMMARY

There are five main application categories:

2022-2023 CDBG Public Services & Community Centers: direct service programs, such as community centers, food pantries, domestic violence prevention, youth programs, senior services, and more. Services must be provided directly to low/moderate income clients or on a drop-in basis in a predominately low/moderate income neighborhood.

2022-2023 CDBG Construction & Improvement Projects: Activities falling into this category include improvements to physical structures that are open to the public and provide services to low- and moderate-income residents of Providence. Eligible activities may include (but are not limited to) capital improvements at neighborhood or community facilities, acquisition of property, handicapped accessibility projects, facility energy efficiency projects, improvements to streets, sidewalks, schools, and improvements to neighborhood parks and playgrounds.

2022-2023 Affordable Housing Development: Applicants may apply for CDBG or HOME funds (or both) under this application form. Applicants may apply for funding for a wide range of activities including building, buying, and/or rehabilitating affordable housing for rent or homeownership, and operation of downpayment assistance or rental assistance programs.

2022-2023 CDBG Economic Development Projects: This category represents programs that support the growth and development of businesses and can include grants, loans, capacity building programs, and technical assistance programs. Activities must meet the National Objective of benefiting low- to moderate-income (LMI) persons. All Economic Development activities will require the documentation of job creation or retention for LMI persons, with the exception of microenterprise development.

Eligible activities include, but are not limited to the following: acquiring, reconstructing, rehabilitating, or installing commercial or industrial buildings, structures, and other real property equipment and improvements; financing programs for private, for-profit businesses (via grants, loans, or loan guarantees); and activities designed to foster the development, support, and expansion of microenterprise businesses with five or fewer employees.

2022-2023 Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS: HOPWA funds may be used for a wide range of housing, social services, program planning, and development costs to benefit individuals living with HIV/AIDS and their families. These include, but are not limited to, the acquisition, rehabilitation, or new construction of housing units; costs for facility operations; rental assistance; and short-term payments to prevent homelessness among persons with HIV/AIDS.

An essential component in providing housing assistance for persons with HIV/AIDS is the coordination and delivery of support services. Consequently, HOPWA funds also may be used for services including (but not limited to) assessment and case management, substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, nutritional services, job training and placement assistance, and assistance with daily living. Low-income persons, at or below 80 percent of area median income, that are medically diagnosed with HIV/AIDS and their families are eligible to receive HOPWA-funded assistance.

The following are eligible activities using HOPWA funds: Tenant-Based Rental Assistance; Facility-Based Housing Subsidy Assistance; Facility-Based Housing Capital Development; Permanent Housing Placement; Short-Term Rent, Mortgage, and Utility Assistance; Supportive Services; Housing Information Services; Resource Identification; and Administration.
