This bond has helped support critical landscaping and placemaking development projects including the creation of a master plan for the Great Streets Project/Urban Trail Network which led to an additional 20 miles of urban trail improvements, on- and off-road paths, and greenways between 2019 and 2021.

Other examples of our department’s commitment to improving Providence resident’s quality of life through comprehensive improvement projects are the Upper Broad Street Public Infrastructure Investment and Broad Street Safety Improvement project. The upper Broad Street Public Infrastructure Investment established $8 million in public infrastructure improvements including repaving sidewalks, crosswalks, sewers, lightings, and street trees as well as enhancing the corridor and public infrastructure surrounding the Barbara Jordan II development. Our staff will identify a qualified landscaping and development team that can host public forums and engages the community in a design-build process. With this expertise, our city will be able to build upon this targeted development plan to enhance public streetscapes and connectivity throughout the city.
COMPLIANCE

AMERICAN RESCUE PLAN ACT (ARPA) COMPLIANCE

Compliance with ARPA eligibility is directly based upon Providence Census Tracts that fall within ARPA defined, Qualified Census Tracts (QCTs) that are areas where 50% or more of the households have incomes below 60% of the area median income, or where the poverty rate is 25% or higher. In the City of Providence, QCT designation include Upper & Lower South Providence, Washington Park, Elmwood, West End, Olneyville, Silver Lake, Wanskuck, Fox Point, and Mt Hope. Some census tract demographics spill into adjacent neighborhoods and overlapping zip codes. QCT’s are areas where 50% or more of the households have incomes below 60% of the area median income, or where the poverty rate is 25% or higher.

Many of the Providence urban neighborhoods and residents who reside in said neighborhoods clearly fit within ARPA rules and regulations* for investment including:

- However, as the Delta variant spread, the intensified health risks and renewed disruptions slowed growth, demonstrating the continued risks from the virus. By fall 2021, the economy had exceeded its pre-pandemic size and unemployment had fallen below 5 percent, but despite this progress, too many Americans remain unemployed, out of the labor force, or unable to pay their bills, with this pain particularly acute among lower-income Americans and communities of color.
- The interim final rule also permitted recipients to presume that certain services provided in Qualified Census Tracts (QCTs), to individuals living in QCTs, or by Tribal governments are responsive to disproportionate impacts of the pandemic. In addition to the populations presumed to be impacted or disproportionately impacted, under the interim final rule, recipients could identify other impacted households or classes, as described above, as well as other populations, households, or geographic areas that are disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.
- The interim final rule also recognized that pre-existing health, economic, and social disparities contributed to disproportionate pandemic impacts in certain communities and allowed for a broader list of enumerated eligible uses to respond to the pandemic in disproportionately impacted communities. Under the interim final rule, recipients were allowed to presume that families residing in QCTs or receiving services provided by Tribal governments were disproportionately impacted by the pandemic.
