BID PACKAGE SPECIFICATIONS

1.0 General Information

1.1 Summary

The City of Providence ("City") is soliciting proposals for the purchase of the City's excess Virtual Net Metering (VNM) credits. This is an open-enrollment RFP. Proposals will be accepted on an ongoing basis as long as the City has excess VNM credits to disburse. At the time of this RFPs release, the City has received more credits than it can currently monetize and is in a position to share at least $3.3 million in utility bill credits with other entities eligible to participate in VNM under Rhode Island General Law § 39-26.4. Interested bidders are encouraged to reach out to David Ruggiero for an up-to-date accounting of available credits prior to submitting their bids. The City is seeking eligible entities to purchase these credits from the City at a discount to their overall value, resulting in net savings to the selected recipient. This is an opportunity for other eligible entities to receive a significant discount on their electricity bills.

1.2 Virtual Net Metering Overview

"Net metering requires electric distribution companies to credit power produced by renewable energy systems installed behind a customer meter. Net Metering allows customers with eligible renewable energy systems to receive bill credits for all power generated up to 125 percent of the entities annual consumption. To participate in net metering, a renewable energy system must be sited on the customer's premises. Eligible customer-sited net metering systems must be sized to meet annual loads, based on a three-year average of electricity consumption at their properties. Virtual Net Metering allows eligible customers to connect their electric load regardless of whether the renewable system is located on the customers properties. Eligible Virtual Net Metering customers include state agencies, quasi-state agencies, municipalities, public housing authorities, public schools, private schools, non-profits, federal government, and hospitals." - <http://www.energy.ri.gov/policies-programs/programs-incentives/net-metering.php>

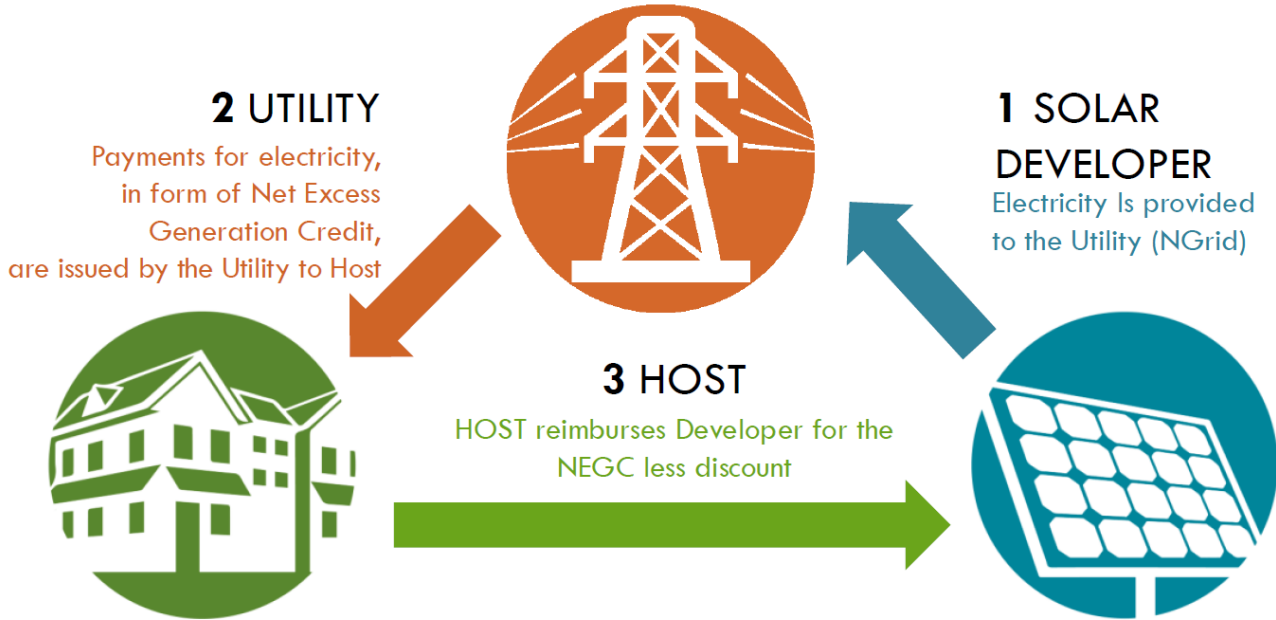

1.3 Providence's Virtual Net Metering Background

In 2016, the City worked with a consultant, Competitive Energy Services (CES), to solicit proposals for the development of a remote net metered solar project which would result in the sale of renewable excess generation credits to the City pursuant to a net excess generation credit purchase agreement (see figure below). The City contracted with Southern Sky Renewables, whose projects were eventually sold to Captona, to receive credits from solar energy facilities. Credits flow directly to the City's electricity bills and the City reimburses Captona for the credits it has received from the solar facility based on the discount rate that was negotiated through the RFP process.

BOARD OF CONTRACT AND SUPPLY
CITY OF PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

SOLAR | Net Excess Generation Flow Chart

In April 2019, the City’s 23 MW virtual net metering project came online. A small part of the system (3.9 MW) is located on a former landfill site in the Town of Johnston and the rest of the system capacity is generated at a site in Cranston, RI. The project was developed by Southern Sky Renewables and designed and built by Conti Solar and members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, IBEW Local 99. The 30.5 million kilowatt-hours of renewable energy produced by the nearly 58,000 panels eliminate 22,670 metric tonnes of carbon dioxide equivalent (CO₂e) from the atmosphere and provide roughly $1.66 million in annual electricity savings to the City.

4.0 Contract and Transaction Mechanics

Selected bidders will be expected to enter into a contract with the City of Providence under which they will pay the City for the agreed upon amount of utility bill credits at a specified discount rate. The Credits will be transferred directly to the awardees’ electricity account via a one-time Schedule B form that will be submitted to RI Energy, after review by the City and the selected bidder(s). Once RI Energy processes this form, the bidder would then see the credit show up on their next bill for their electricity utility account. Upon receipt of the credit on the successful bidder(s) utility bill(s), the City will invoice the recipient at the agreed upon discounted rate. For example, if the bidder bought $100 of credits at a discount rate of 20%, they would receive a $100 credit on their electricity account and pay the City $80 for those credits ($100 minus ($100 *20% (discount rate) = $80).

5.0 Quantity and Price

Bidders shall clearly specify the amount of credits they would like to purchase and at what discount rate. Please use the below Price Proposal Table to submit pricing.

Electricity Account Owner	Total Amount of Credits to Purchase ($)	Proposed Discount Rate (%)	Purchase Cost
EXAMPLE – TOWN OF BAYSIDE	$250,000	20%	$200,000
EXAMPLE – HOSPITAL	$1,500,000	20%	$1,200,000
TOTAL	1,750,000	20%	1,400,000

6.0 Qualification

Each bidder shall submit a brief description of their organization that verifies their organizations eligibility to receive VNM credits. Bidders must be eligible Virtual Net Metering customers (as defined by Rhode Island General Law § 39-26.4) which include state agencies, quasi-state agencies, municipalities, public housing authorities, public schools, private schools, non-profits, federal government, and hospitals.

7.0 Award Criteria

The award(s) will be made to the bidders who, in the opinion of the selection committee, offers the best overall package. The evaluation will be included, but will not necessarily be limited to, the following (in rank order of importance to the City, noting that some may be of equal importance)

1. Competitive discount rate, which in this case, will be the lowest discount rate.
2. Size of credit purchase and alignment with the number of credits the City is selling.
- 3.

The City reserves the right to award multiple contracts to multiple, different bidders. Any resulting contract shall be constructed under and governed by the Laws of the State of Rhode Island.
