Behavioral Health Co-Response Program Support Management Services

One-year contract with three one-year options for renewal

The City of Providence's Healthy Communities Office (HCO) seeks proposals for program support management services and mental health clinicians for the behavioral health co-response with Providence Fire/EMS, Providence Alternative Integrated Response & Emergency Response (PAIRED) program, between January 1, 2024 and December 31, 2024 with three one-year options for renewal contingent on funding and at the discretion of the Healthy Communities Office.

Questions about this RFP should be directed to Silaphone Nhongvongsouthy, Healthy Communities Office Program Manager, at snhongvongsouthy@providenceri.gov

Background

The Healthy Communities Office is the City's lead agency for health policy, health promotion and substance use disorder prevention. The HCO works to ensure that Providence residents have equitable access to the resources they need to lead healthy lives.

Addressing behavioral health challenges experienced by residents, both mental health and substance use related, continues to be a priority for the City of Providence, especially for residents experiencing behavioral health crises. Behavioral health crises occur when an individual is at risk for harming themselves or others, they are unable to perform regular functions, and/or care for themselves¹. "Too often that experience is met with delay, detainment and even denial of service in a manner that creates undue burden on the person, law enforcement, emergency departments and justice systems" (SAMHSA).

To create the most effective behavioral health crisis response, the City of Providence expanded its existing behavioral health programming by piloting the Providence Alternative Integrated Response & Emergency Diversion (PAIRED) program in May 2022. The program utilizes a behavioral health co-response team comprising an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) and mental health clinician to respond to behavioral health and social services crises.

On average, the Providence Fire Department's Emergency Medical Services (EMS) responds to over 6,000 incidents, and Providence Police Department responds to over 400 incidents of behavioral and social service crises a year. In the first half of 2023, EMS and Police responded to 2,584 and 381 behavioral health crises, respectively. Fortunately, reports show that when PAIRED responds to these crises, it reduces unnecessary hospitalizations and criminal justice involvement. In addition, individuals experience increased connections to treatment and reduced incidence of repeat crises.

This funding opportunity seeks to improve the City of Providence's behavioral health and social service crises response through the continued use of PAIRED program model to:

- 1. Increase dispatchers' capacity to accurately screen, identify, and code behavioral health and social service emergencies at a resident's initial point of contact and dispatch the appropriate response.
- 2. Decrease the dispatch of traditional police or fire resources for behavioral health or social service emergencies by dispatching the PAIRED team when appropriate
- 3. Increase the delivery of appropriate treatment and referral to individuals experiencing behavioral health and social service emergencies by expanding responders' capacity to assess individuals and their needs appropriately.
- 4. Increase positive outcomes for individuals experiencing behavioral health and social services emergencies by diverting them from unnecessary hospitalizations, limiting justice involvement, and connecting them with appropriate ongoing resources.
- 5. Increase the provision of follow-up care for individuals responded to after the resolutions of emergencies to reduce repeat crises and emergency response utilization.

Scope of Work

In its efforts to address and reduce the negative outcomes of behavioral health and social service crises, the HCO seeks organizations to provide program support management and mental health clinicians for the Providence Alternative Integrated Response & Emergency Diversion (PAIRED) program.

Task 1: Provide clinicians (up to 2 FTE) to accompany the Providence Fire Department's Emergency Medical Services. to provide clinical services on-scene at behavioral health and social services crises; based on a predetermined schedule created in conjunction with PFD that includes nights and weekends. Activities for coresponse include, but are not limited to:

Activities:

- Providing triage and evaluation for individuals experiencing behavioral health and social service crises
- Providing additional interventions such as counseling, safety planning, certifications, provision of basic needs and informational resources, support, and consultation for others on the scene
- Facilitating referrals, transport, and transfer to the appropriate level of care
