Background Information

This project is a component of the City of Providence's Capital Revolving Fund, which is dedicated to enhancing building systems. It emphasizes updates critical for health and safety, enriching the educational environment, and bolstering infrastructure. The core philosophy behind these projects is to focus on incremental improvements in buildings not currently undergoing significant capital renovations. Resource allocation prioritizes facilities outside the scope of immediate, extensive capital refurbishments, with 80% of the budget allocated to building upgrades and 20% directed towards student-centered enhancements. However, this specific project is slated for a comprehensive renovation in the coming years. As a result, the current work is of a temporary nature, necessitating a highly cost-effective approach to construction.
