

Mental and Behavioral Health Resource Guide

City of Providence

MAYOR BRETT P. SMILEY
CITY OF PROVIDENCE

Mayor's Coalition
on Behavioral Health
City of Providence

The City of Providence Department of Housing & Human Services (HHS) shall seek to improve the lives and living conditions of the City's low- and moderate-income residents. The Department shall support community-based strategies that build strong, vibrant, and stable neighborhoods, enhance opportunity and public health, and provide quality affordable housing throughout the City.

The Mission of the Mayor's Coalition on Behavioral Health (MCBH) is to provide leadership, raise awareness and develop policy for the Mayor relating to health, wellness, and safety, including drug, alcohol, and tobacco prevention, across the lifespan.

The mission of the Coalition states:

- Promoting the health and wellness of individuals and communities in the Providence area;
- Using evidence-based programs, as well as providing tools, resources, and education for community prevention;
- Supporting comprehensive environmental strategies to address systemic challenges.

The City of Providence Mental and Behavioral Health Resource Guide is intended to include as many Providence resources as possible and is updated as of Summer 2024. The information included in this Guide is subject to change. There may be additional resources available in Providence that are not included in this Guide.

If you or someone you know is having thoughts of suicide, or is experiencing a mental health or substance use crisis, call 988.

When you need police, fire, or rescue, or have a medical emergency such as an overdose, call 911.

A Note from the Mayor

Dear Neighbor,

Welcome to the City of Providence Mental and Behavioral Health Resource Guide.

My Administration is deeply committed to ensuring that every individual in our community has access to high-quality mental and behavioral health support. To achieve this, Providence has made meaningful investments in innovative behavioral health initiatives and established important partnerships with local organizations, wellness centers and hospitals. These collaborations are crucial in connecting our community members with the essential mental health resources they need.

We recognize that Providence residents may not know where to access the best mental healthcare services for themselves or their family members — or may not even think to take the first step towards finding care. That is the goal of this guide — to give you and your loved ones the resources you need to seek services if you are in need of support.

“The State of Mental Health in America 2023” by Mental Health America (MHA) reports that:

1. Out of the over 50 million American adults living with mental illness, 28% have an unmet need for treatment. This number has not declined since 2011.
2. More than half of adults with a mental illness do not receive treatment.
3. Of youth with severe depression who are receiving treatment, only 28% receive consistent care.
4. 1 in 10 youth with private insurance do not have coverage for mental health services.
5. 11% of adults with a mental illness are uninsured.
6. 11.5% of youth in the U.S. are experiencing severe major depression. This rate is higher (16.5%) among youth who identify as more than one race.

These statistics show that there is still work to be done to improve the availability and accessibility of mental and behavioral healthcare, especially for our children and most vulnerable neighbors. We hope that the information in this guide will empower more individuals to take advantage of the services and support available in and around Providence.

If you or someone you know is experiencing emotional or behavioral challenges, please know that there are resources available for you. Most people do not hesitate to go to the doctor for a physical health concern, like a broken bone, and we should treat mental health the same way. If you are not sure whether your mental or emotional state is something to be concerned about, it is worth seeking out a provider to ask. Your primary healthcare physician is a good place to start. We hope that this guide will connect you to other valuable resources in our community as well.

Please feel free to contact our office through our website with any questions you may have: <https://www.providenceri.gov/housing-human-services/>.

Sincerely,

Brett P. Smiley
39th Mayor of Providence

988 SUICIDE & CRISIS LIFELINE

What is 988?

The 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline (formerly known as the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline) offers 24/7 call, text and chat access to trained crisis counselors who can help people experiencing suicidal, substance use, and/or mental health crisis, or any other kind of emotional distress. People can also dial 988 if they are worried about a loved one who may need crisis support. In Rhode Island, 988 calls are answered by BH Link.

For more information on 988,
visit the SAMHSA website for FAQs.

About This Guide

Each entry in this resource guide details a different organization that serves the Providence community, including the services the organization provides, the clients they serve, any special programs the organization offers, the language(s) the organization speaks and the forms of payment that are accepted by the organization. While we strive to provide the most current information, please note that organization services may change and contacting the organization directly will provide you with the most up-to-date information.

The Resource Guide is divided into five primary focus sections to help you quickly find the most relevant resources.

1. Basic Needs – Clothing, Case Management, Crime Victims Support, Domestic Violence Programming, Education and Employment Services, Emergency Food, Emergency Housing Assistance, Health Education, Legal Clinic, Mortgage Assistance, Prescription Assistance, Rental Assistance, Temporary Housing and Utility Assistance.
2. Children, Youth and Families – Programs Mainly Focused On The Family Unit and Child Welfare and Mothers. Specialized resources for Spanish-speaking and LGBTQ+ residents are included.
3. Inpatient Treatment – Hospitalization and Addiction Recovery Resources.
4. Mental Health and Recovery Services – Behavioral Healthcare and Outpatient Treatment Services.
5. Other Services – Resources whose focus areas are important to mental health, but cannot specifically be categorized into the previous sections.

Types of Services

For each organization listed in this guide, we list a keyword for the types of services the organization provides. Below are the definitions of the service keywords included in this guide.

Day Treatment – Partial hospitalization where a patient resides at home but commutes to treatment.

Helplines/Hotlines – Phone-based emotional, social and/or financial support through peer-to-peer interactions.

HIV/STD – Specialized programs, advocacy or support for individuals affected by HIV/AIDS or other sexually transmitted diseases.

Housing or Temporary Residence – Shelters and supportive community organizations that provide refuge.

Insurance – Support and information regarding Medicare, Medicaid, private and other types of insurance.

Mental Health Services – Support and treatment for individuals or families affected by mental health conditions.

Outpatient – Medical treatment provided without admittance to a hospital.

Prescription Assistance – Discounts, programs or other means to help with payment for prescriptions.

Psychiatric Services – The study, diagnosis and treatment of affective, behavioral, cognitive and perceptual mental disorders.

Recovery Support Services – Removal of obstacles before and during recovery as well as enhancement of quality of life for people in recovery and their families.

Residential Treatment – Live-in healthcare facility providing therapy and treatment for substance use disorders.

Forms of Payment Accepted

Whenever possible, we list the methods of payment accepted by each organization for their services (if required). Below are the definitions of the forms of payment included in this guide.

Employer-Sponsored/Private Insurance – Health plan provided through an employer or by an individual through a private company.

Free - All Services – All interactions and services are free of charge.

Free - Limited Services – Some but not all services are free of charge.

Medicaid – Largest source of funding for medical health-related services for people with low income in the United States.

Medicare – Social service that guarantees access to health insurance for Americans over 65 years of age.

Out of Pocket – Compensation for services covered by money of an individual rather than another source.

Sliding Scale Fee – Payment methods that vary based on income or other factors.

Tricare – Healthcare insurance program of the United States Department of Defense Military Health System. Generally used by military families.

It's a great time to clean out your medicine cabinet! Protect our kids, families and environment by properly disposing of your unwanted and expired medicines. Medicines in the home are a leading cause of accidental poisoning, and flushed or trashed medicines can end up polluting our waters. Rates of prescription drug abuse are alarmingly high, and over half of teens abusing medicines get them from a family member or friend — including the home medicine cabinet — and often without their knowledge.

RETURN UNUSED AND EXPIRED PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

FREE. ANONYMOUS. NO QUESTIONS ASKED.

Unused and expired medicines that remain in medicine cabinets or other accessible locations in the home increase the risk of prescription drug misuse and abuse. Dispose of your unwanted and expired prescription drugs safely using the tips below.

HOW TO USE A MEDRETURN BIN

MedReturn bins CAN accept: prescription patches, prescription medications, prescription ointments, over-the-counter medications, vitamins, medication samples and pet medications.

MedReturn bins CANNOT accept: liquids, thermometers, hydrogen peroxide, inhalers, aerosol cans, lotions and “sharps” (i.e. needles, lancets, syringes and IVs).

Residents with needles are encouraged to return them to AIDS Care Ocean State's needle exchange program. Call (401) 521-3603 for more information.

Deposit pills in clear plastic bags. Do not include pill bottles that display personal medical information.
